City Council Names Five To DC Commission Positions

Five new appointments to city commissions were announced Wednesday night by the city council.

Named to the library board were Mrs. Grace Woods, Frank De Martini and Francis Pacelli. The trio replace Mrs. Jane Keith who recently resigned her post and Chairman Wayne Carr and Mrs. Margo Westgaard, whose terms have expired.

Two other board members, Lionel Farber and Mrs. Maud Hanselman, were reappointed to their positions.

New appointee to the planning commission is Roy Foster, who replaces George Pingry, while taking up duties on the personnel board is H. E. Brakebill, who fills the vacancy left by newly-elected Councilman Paul Hupf.

Active Background

Mrs. Woods, 33, housewife of 181 Wilshire avenue, has been active in library work and is presently serving as president of "Friends of the Library." She also is active on the Library site committee and was chairman of the Westlake PTA book carnival. The new appointee attended Healds business college, took extensive training at Georgia State College for Women while serving as a WAVE during World War II, and has completed numerous other courses. A resident of Daly City for four years, she and her husband Robert have two boys, aged five and nine.

Second library commissioner, De Martini, 49, served as campaign manager for Councilman Michael De Bernardi during the recall election. De Martini, a steam fitter, is a member of the city civil defense committee and serves as committee chairman of Boy Scout troop No. 248. He has lived in Daly City for two years. He and his wife Bernice have two sons, Frank, 14, and Richard, 10.

Hupf Manager

Pacelli, third appointee, was campaign manager for Paul Hupf during the council election. Pacelli, a manufacturers representative for Carter Ink company, attended the University of San Francisco where he majored in political science. He is presently serving as publicity chairman for the Westlake Catholic Men. He and his wife Claire have four children, aged 8, 6½, 3½, and 1. Pacelli, 35, a resident here for a year and a half.

The Town Record

By MONTE DAYTON

It's slim pickings for hot column tid-bits when you've been camping back in the hinterlands of Trinity county for two weeks.

But some ready-made material drove right into camp one Saturday a.m.

The noisy melee that disturbed the tranquility of the Trinity at 4 a.m. was none other than the trio of TONY MASINI, local planning commissioner, BOB YOUNG and JOE SCHULTZ, out for a weekend in quest of salmo irideus (rainbow trout to you uninitiated).

As they say in the PG&E reports, fishing was good to excellent.

Having found this haven for angling, I'll only say its 60 miles out of Red Bluff on dirt road, turn right at two punctured tires, and stop when your battery and manifold fall off the car.

You can't miss it.

Annexation to Daly City is all the rage these days. In two short weeks Brisbane made overtures, then Chris McKeon started nego-

BROADMOOR LOOMS IN DC EXPANSION AGAIN

An "exploratory" meeting of Daly City and Broadmoor officials to discuss possible annexation of the neighboring community will be held Tuesday night at the Copperwood Lodge in Colma.

The perennial Broadmoor topic brings to three the number of annexations now "in the fire" by Daly City in the past month. Also up for consideration are the proposed McKeon subdivision and Brisbane.

Numerous unsuccessful attempts have been made to negotiate the Broadmoor annexation, the most recent being about a year ago when the "Baughman Report" was issued on the comparable advantages of annexation or incorporation. An election was held for incorporation, but failed because boundaries of the proposed city were more than cut in half after protest of property owners.

Broadmoor Property Owners association has held several sessions recently on the annexation proposal but are not expected to come to Tuesday's meeting with any definite commitments.

Jack Baker, chairman of the BPOA's annexation committee, will bring with him the contingent of Howard Richardson, Al Nickas and Bill Kraschel.

Expected to be on hand for the city are Howard Stites, city manager, Mayor Joseph Verducci and some or all of the councilmen.

15 Items On Agenda For DC Council

A 15-item agenda will face the city council when it convenes for its regular session Tuesday night. The meeting has been postponed because of the Admission Day holiday on Monday.

Councilmen reviewed the matters in study session Wednesday night.

Up for consideration Tuesday will be the following matters:

1. Application of Kenneth Bassler, pool room proprietor at 6380 Mission street, for permit to operate draw poker card room. Mayor Joseph Verducci and Councilman Paul Hupf expressed themselves "emphatically" against granting the permit, Hupf terming that type of an establishment "undesirable." The application may be turned over to the police department for recommendation, although Verducci favored rejecting it immediately next Tuesday.

2. Letter from North San Mateo County Sanitation district on the district sewage treatment plant.

3. Letter from state public utilities commission on application of Peninsula Bus Lines for certain route changes.

4. Applications for business licenses from the following firms: Joe Borelli, used car lot, 6776 Mission street; Norbert and Ruby Coop Anderson, coffee shop, 6005 Mission street; E. Bippus, used car lot, 6774 Mission street; Van Suts Ice Cream, soda fountain, 2154 Junipero Serra; Robert E. Smith, junk dealer, 2133 Junipero Serra.

5. Letter regarding formation of San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit district.

6. Report from city manager on savings realized on new Westlake well pump, which he said is now delivering 1080 gallons per minute; Stites will also recommend final approval of the new booster pumping plant at Reservoir No. 5.

7. Request by Henry Doelger, Builder, Inc., for vacation of streets in Westlake Unit 4.

8. First reading of ordinance rezoning three lots bounded by Mission, Citrus and Miriam streets from R-3 to C-1.

9. Discussion of establishing

Brisbane Group Hits Annexation

Brisbane Chamber of Commerce members voiced mild opposition on the annexation of the bayside community to Daly City during their regular monthly meeting Tuesday night.

Art Kennedy, secretary-manager of the organization, said it appears unlikely that a majority of Brisbaners will approve the issue.

"We naturally will consider Daly City's survey, but I don't think too many residents will approve the merger," he added.

"Annexation will cause the same problems we encountered two years ago when we tried to incorporate," he told the sparse gathering.

"Besides, we want to know exactly how much we would benefit under the Daly City tieup. We are well aware of the only reason Daly City wants us is because of their interest in the industrial potential of the Crocker property."

Kennedy speculated that most Brisbaners probably would prefer another try at incorporation to joining Daly City. He recalled that the community's attempt to incorporate in 1954 failed by only 56 votes. Their plan to become a sixth class city included 30 acres of the adjacent Crocker land.

The secretary-manager indicated Daly City officials suggested annexation six months ago "but never followed through." He hinted that the Chamber of Commerce "would be glad to hear Daly City officials on the matter."

Brisbane Home Owner's Association initiated the annexation proposal last month in a meeting with the Daly City Council. Councilman Paul Hupf and City Manager Howard Stites also appeared before the homeowners last week to discuss benefits to both communities. The homeowners agreed to await the results of Daly City's six-week engineering survey to determine the costs of the merger before taking additional action.

MUST REGISTER BY THURSDAY FOR NOVEMBER VOTE

Only seven days remain for voters to register to become eligible for the November 6 general election.

For the convenience of persons who have not yet registered, the following locations have been established for registration:

"BIG BROTHER" assistance is here being given Fred Bennett (left) by Peter Markovich, Chamber of Commerce executive secretary. Bennett, assistant cashier at First Western bank, issued a call this week for all Daly City men under 35 years of age to join in reorganizing the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A meeting of interested persons will be scheduled in the near future. Bennett may be contacted at PL 6-2500 during the day and at PL 6-4959 in the evening.

School Bells Scheduled To Ring Again Tuesday

Local school officials issued a reminder today that school doors will swing open for the fall term next Tuesday, following the Admission Day holiday.

An all-time record of 8540 students are expected to enroll at local public and parochial schools.

Jefferson elementary district schools will be open for registration of all new pupils this Friday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Double sessions in the Jefferson Elementary School district will not be necessary this fall as the 13 new classrooms of Benjamin Franklin school have been completed, according to David R. Shapiro, JESD administrative assistant.

The JESD Board of Trustees had contemplated double sessions at Benjamin Franklin and Garden Village schools in the event the new classrooms were not ready for the opening of the school year next Tuesday.

Benjamin Franklin now has a total of 17 classrooms.

Parents who register kindergarten or first grade pupils must present a birth certificate, baptismal certificate, passport or affidavit as proof of a child's age. Kindergarten students must have reached their fourth birthday on or before December 1, 1955, while first graders must have observed their fifth birthday on or before December 1, 1955.

The superintendent's office will mail post cards to all returning students by this Friday, informing the youngsters which schools and classrooms to attend.

On the high school level, students were reminded that double sessions will be held at Jefferson this year. Westmoor pupils will attend classes from 7:45 a.m. to 12:15 p.m., while Jefferson students will be in school from 12:30 to 5 p.m.

City Employees Get Admission Day Off

All Daly City municipal employees except police and firemen will take a holiday Monday in observance of Admission Day.

Banks and several local stores also will be closed.

Council, Personnel Board Nix New Pay Hike Plan

An eleventh hour proposal by Councilman Michael De Bernardi to raise pay for city employees in the lower income steps was abandoned Wednesday night at a special joint meeting of the council and personnel board.

De Bernardi withdrew his plan after personnel board chairman Harry Bosbery revealed, "I'm scared of what this would do to your salaries in the upper brackets."

Bosbery explained that his board had made a special survey of comparable cities and learned that Daly City "stands on a par or above in pay for its city employees, except in the top administrative positions."

Reversing an earlier stand against pay hikes, the council two weeks ago voted a 2½ per cent increase for city employees.

In announcing his proposal at the special meeting held at Pucini's restaurant, De Bernardi's contention was that the pay offered for beginning employees wasn't an adequate living wage and that it made it difficult for the city to attract new employees.

Bosbery said that with fringe benefits offered, "Daly City is way ahead of all the other municipalities."

Director Starr Dunham agreed with Bosbery, and told De Bernardi that as far as the difficulty of attracting new employees, "You have the same problem in all industry."

Mayor Joseph Verducci said some inequities might exist in isolated job positions, and that the personnel board could begin making a survey to iron out these difficulties for next year. He also explained that the North County Council of Cities would have a job survey ready by February 1.

Verducci also mentioned possibility of eliminating residency requirements for some positions in order to attract top personnel and asked the board to consider this proposal.

Vickers Balks At McKeon Annexation Over Pipe Costs

State Approves Alemany Blvd. Traffic Lights

Traffic signals at two dangerous Alemany boulevard intersections have been officially approved by the state division of highways, District Traffic Engineer Jerry O'Shea told THE RECORD today.

He estimated that construction of the signals at the Sheffield-South Mayfair and Dorchester-Eastgate corners would begin in about six months time. Type of installation is still to be determined, O'Shea declared.

In announcing the Alemany approval, O'Shea reaffirmed his earlier stand that the highways division would not consider installation of traffic lights at Westmoor and Westridge on Skyline boulevard.

"Signals on Skyline would be a terrific hazard," he reiterated.

This point of view was backed up by Daly City Police Chief Roland Petrocchi at a public meeting on August 6.

"Push On Skyline"

Meanwhile, the Westlake Improvement association, meeting Tuesday night, voted to forward a letter to the state division of highways asking details on the Alemany request. Directors also said they would include a "push on Skyline signals."

Following Attorney Hartley Appleton's statement that the division is "trying to tone down Skyline signals,"

CANDIDATE ADLAI SMACKS LIPS AT DC GIRL'S SUCKER

Daly City had at least unofficial representation Wednesday when Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson landed at San Francisco International Airport.

Seven-year-old Judy Ribberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ribberg, 455 Southgate avenue, shared her all-day lollipop with the candidate, who took several satisfied licks while cameramen's flash bulbs popped.

Judy is a student at Olympia school. Her parents, obviously, are both registered Democrats.

Hunt Continues For Two Missing Daly City Girls

Search continued this week for two teenage Daly City girls who were reported missing by their parents last Thursday.

Sought are Diana M. Klein, 13, 169 Miriam street, and Clo Ann Mowatt, 17, 731 Niantic avenue. The girls, students at Jefferson High school, are believed to be runaways, according to both families.

The Klein girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Klein, left home early Thursday and did not return. She phoned her folks the next day and said she "thought I would be in the way at home and it would be better not to return."

The girl called again that night and said she would return Saturday night but did not comply. Her parents, claiming she is emotionally upset, contacted a girl friend in San Francisco and learned that Diana may be with two other girls missing from a foster home.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Mowatt believe their daughter may have run off with a San Francisco youth who is wanted for violating probation. The youth, Mike Weigner, who authorities said was supposed to be with his grandmother in Portland, Oregon, came to San Francisco two weeks ago. The Mowatts said Clo had been seeing him prior to her disappearance. Police checked his San Francisco address, 67 Vanahoe street, but were unable to locate him.

'NOT READY' TO VOTE PENDING MORE STUDY

An indefinite delay on Daly City's annexation of the McKeon subdivision was seen in council study session Wednesday night when Councilman Sanford Vickers balked at portions of an agreement for installation of a sewer transmission line.

Although the rest of the council was in favor of the agreement between McKeon and the North San Mateo County Sanitation district, Vickers, a director on the sanitation board, said he would not abide by the council's policy "at this time."

Sanitation Board Halts Zita Plans

A two-to-one deadlock by directors of the North San Mateo County Sanitation district Wednesday blocked attempts by Building Commissioner George McKeon to have the district agree to finance a controversial transmission line.

The line would connect McKeon subdivision sanitation facilities with the main line at 87th and Washington streets in Broadmoor.

Director Sanford Vickers, Daly City councilman who had previously voiced his disapproval of district payment for the line, was joined Wednesday by County Supervisor Thomas Callan.

Del Wilson, second Daly City councilman serving as a sanitation director, held out for district financing. In submitting his proposal to the board, McKeon agreed to pay the $25 per lot annexation fee plus incur all existing bonded indebtedness. He flatly refused, however, to finance the transmission line, contending that it would mean "paying three times."

McKeon was backed up by his engineer, Ted Tronoff, who maintained that additional homes would not result in added cost to the district.

At Vickers' suggestion, the remainder of the board agreed to request an engineering survey on the problem.

In other business Wednesday the directors agreed to a proposal by Michael Callan and Hartley Appleton, Jefferson elementary school district trustees, that cost of laying a pipe near Benjamin Franklin be pro-rated between the two bodies. Under the agreement, the sanitation district will pay approximately 61 per cent, and the school district, 39 per cent.

Sixty-seven Bldg. Permits Issued In Month Of August

Sixty-seven building permits for construction valued at $684,881 were issued by Daly City during August, according to the building department.

The total includes 45 new dwellings valued at $406,000, 9 alterations to dwellings at $8273, 7 apartment buildings at $132,040, 4 commercial buildings at $62,909, 1 rectory and convent at $43,759 and 7 signs at $1900.

The August figures represent a considerable hike over the July total of 71 permits for construction valued at $447,002.

Total permits issued this year now number 562 for a construction valuation of $6,543,954. High month for the year was March when construction amounted to $813,000.

Sentencing of William Albert Brandt was again continued by San Francisco Superior Court Judge Orla St. Clair yesterday morning. New date is next Thursday.

Brandt, 20, 473 Knowles avenue, has entered a guilty plea to possession of narcotics. Second count of narcotics transportation was dropped.

The youth was arrested April 24 in San Francisco by federal agents.

While Daly City can still proceed with its annexation of the land under an agreement already tentatively approved, it is unlikely that negotiations will be concluded unless provision is made for sewage disposal.

An unusual situation exists in that Vickers, along with the vote of fellow director and supervisor Thomas Callan Sr., can tie up the annexation. Third director on the sanitation board, Councilman Del Wilson, went along with the annexation agreement, which provided that the district would install sewage transmission line from the McKeon land to 87th and Washington street. Under the agreement, McKeon would finance the line, and would be reimbursed by the city at 10 per cent per annum, plus 2½ per cent interest.

Claim $25 Adequate
The council and George McKeon of the Zita Corporation, which will construct the 365-acre subdivision west of Junipero Serra, held that the $25 per lot annexation fee charged by the sanitation district would more than offset the cost of installing the transmission line.

Verducci said that the sanitation district's list of annexation charges states purpose of the $25 fee is to "establish conditions of equality to finance trunk lines and outfall lines." Verducci charged, "It says right here that the purpose is to pay for transmission lines."

McKEONS CHRISTEN NEW SUBDIVISION ST. FRANCIS HEIGHTS

The 2500-home McKeon subdivision, which appears headed toward annexation to Daly City, will be christened "St. Francis Heights." Builder George McKeon told THE RECORD today.

Chosen title only narrowly edged out the second place winner, "Northgate."

Construction is expected to begin in about three months time, with first unit of homes due for completion in approximately six months. It is estimated that the development, located to the southwest of Daly City, will ultimately house 8000 persons.

But Vickers countered that future growth of the area would require enlarging of sewer lines throughout the district, and that revenue from the $25 per lot fee would be used to pay for these facilities.

Garden Club Will Offer 3rd Annual Show This Sunday

The Daly City war memorial community center will be transformed into a flower fairy land Sunday when the Daly City Garden club presents its third annual flower show. Doors will be open from 1 to 9 p.m.

Home grown horticulture specimens and flower arrangements as well as garden sections prepared by local nurseries will be on display.

Mrs. C. M. Yohn, president, extended an invitation from the garden club for all local residents to attend the free show. "It will be more than worth your while to see the show," the president said, adding that "There will be many new ideas for the homeowner to see."

The show is planned primarily for the amateur gardener, which accounts for its popularity, Mrs. Yohn reminded.

Bocci Sentences Two San Francisco Drivers

Two San Francisco men arrested in Daly City on drunk driving counts were sentenced this Thursday morning in municipal court by Judge Thomas L. Bocci.

John B. Allen, 222 Craig street, was sentenced to 60 days in jail or $400 fine. Frank B. Holm, 959

South Van Ness avenue, was given a choice of 30 days in jail or $250 fine.

Allen was booked August 19 after police spotted his car weaving in and out of a drainage ditch near Junipero Serra and School street. Holm was arrested Wednesday for erratic driving on Junipero Serra.

Rec Chief Job Now Part-Time

Daly City recreation department, operating for the past five months under a temporary director, now has only a part-time director with the return of Frank Ingersoll to his duties as a school teacher.

Ingersoll has held the post of temporary director during the summer, but starting this week will only be able to serve from 3 p.m. on because of his teaching job. This leaves the city without a director on weekdays.

The council is still searching for a permanent director and has raised the salary range from $395-$481 to $481-$556 in order to attract qualified candidates for the job.

At last week's meeting of the recreation commission it was reported that attendance at the city's parks and playgrounds hit a record 19,396 during the month of July.

Commissioners learned that the Westlake softball diamond has been completed and the backstop would be finished within a week. At Frankfort park, the commission heard that a concrete wall is now under construction and is scheduled for completion in 10 days. Paving of the area will be finished in about three weeks.

And in the background, Broadmoor has been having some private parleys on the matter that was abandoned so gracefully by them about a year ago.

Broadmoor officials didn't want any publicity on the thing until they're ready to talk turkey, because last year a lot of nasty words got thrown around at the very mention of the idea.

Last week THE RECORD published its annual "Back to School" edition giving info on school starting September 11, bus schedules and other date important to mom, pop and the kids this time of the year.

And as usual there were several calls from Westlake residents this week who claimed our information was erroneous.

"Why it says in the downtown papers that San Francisco schools started this week," said they. Transplanted San Franciscans, like Los Angelenos, can't get over the idea that anything within 100-mile radius isn't in their hometown. Except that in Los Angeles it usually is.

Directors present at Tuesday's meeting were Chairman Howard Dunham, Glenn Zwicker, Charles Santuccio, Ed Murphy and Richard Stark.

In other action the directors:

1. Heard Appleton report on freeing about 1700 Westlake homes from the Broadmoor Police district. City Attorney Frank Blum said today that all precincts except the troublesome 69 in which no one is now living would be taken off the tax roll. Thus Bulldog Henry Doelger will remain the only taxpayer to the Broadmoor district in Daly City until the homes are occupied.

2. Voted to direct a new letter to City Manager Howard Starr informing him that an earlier request for planting strips is on city and not state owned property.

3. Agreed to enforce a ruling of no political signs on bus stations.

4. Decided to investigate the county uniform health bill, as requested by Supervisor Thomas Callan.

5. Endorsed action of the city council in approving a transportation committee and agreed to appoint representatives when asked.

Daly City Man Is Arrested For Brisbane Robbery

A 37-year-old Daly City mechanic was captured Sunday morning for allegedly robbing a Brisbane liquor store six hours earlier.

Held in county jail on an armed robbery charge is Michael A. Finnegan, 27 Hillcrest avenue. Sheriff's deputies claim he held up the Brisbane Liquor store, 341 Visitation avenue, shortly after midnight Sunday and escaped with $466 and a bottle of whiskey. Store owner George Ellison, 66, identified Finnegan at county jail as the gunman who entered his store just after closing time and demanded "everything you've got."

Quick work by four teenagers who spotted the suspect running from the store led to Finnegan's apprehension near his home a few hours later. The youngsters reported Finnegan's license number to Deputy Sheriff Edward Babwin and the officer took off in quick pursuit. After Finnegan's car disappeared in traffic, Babwin alerted all Peninsula authorities via radio. A check on the car's ownership resulted in a quick trackdown.

Finnegan was picked up near his apartment by police officers August Benassini, M. F. Murray and James Bergstrom after the manager phoned that the suspect had returned. Police found a bottle of whiskey and $100 in a billfold on the porch of a building where Finnegan was hiding. A search of his apartment uncovered two loaded revolvers.

CLAIM DC WIFE SIGNED UNIQUE AGREEMENT

Unique pre-marriage agreement signed by a Daly City woman stating that her husband did not father her two children has been entered as evidence in an annulment action in superior court.

The husband, Robert Harper, 119 Mendocino street, Brisbane, filed the document which he claims was signed by both him and his wife prior to their 1954 Reno marriage.

Despite the signed statement, his wife, Mary Stone Harper of 29 Theta street, claims that Harper is the father of the two youngsters, Roberta, 21 months, and Patricia, 8 months.

Mrs. Harper's attorney, John Putkey, alleges that there was an "element of coercion" in obtaining his client's signature on the document.

Dispute over the parenthood began when Harper filed suit for annulment in San Francisco last month. In his complaint he stated there were no children and no community property.

In a cross complaint filed by Mrs. Harper, she claimed that Harper was the father of the two children. She asked custody and reasonable support.

The unusual pre-marriage agreement was produced by Harper following his wife's cross complaint.

Vickers Balks At McKeon Annex Over Pipe Costs

said Verducci. "Why penalize one builder?"

"Are you going to stop development of the community to find out what some builders are going to do on land that's already in the district?" asked Councilman Paul Hupf.

Vickers was adamant, and held that the whole council should be present at the September 17 meeting of the sanitation board "to get the facts."

Council "Delegates"

Verducci charged that directors of the sanitation district, two of which are appointed by and from the council, were delegates from the council. All we're asking for is to resolve a policy matter tonight on whether a builder should have to pay for the transmission line. We'll instruct the sanitation directors to approve the tactic agreement."

Councilman Micheal De Bernardi said "the only question is who should pay for the line. It's the district's responsibility."

Wilson said the annexation would reduce taxes for the sanitation district. He declared that he was merely a "committeeman from the council on the sanitation district. I'll go along with what the council wants." Vickers winced at his fellow director's remarks.

Said Vickers, "The sanitation district is a different faction of government. Don't you believe our studies? My work is for nothing if I vote against what I know."

Hupf argued that Vickers was "arguing against himself."

"The question is," interjected Verducci, "Whether you will abide by council policy."

"Not at this time," answered Vickers.

"How old am I?"

—asks Mrs. Edmund Dominguez
197 Millar Avenue, San Jose, California

She's mother of five fine boys yet she looks young enough to be their sister. And (lucky boys) she feels young enough to be their sister!

Why do so many mothers look and feel so much younger these days? One big reason is modern household appliances—they free women from chores that used to rob them of their youth and beauty.

Mrs. Dominguez, who's 33 years old, leaves much of her hard work to labor-saving appliances. How about you?

Here's the beauty of it: With gas and electricity so cheap in California, you can run a houseful of appliances all day for about half the cost of a bottle of liquid makeup.

THAT INEVITABLE SEPTEMBER TIME

Even the die-hards have struggled in from the last big summer spree, the Labor Day Weekend. Daylight Savings time's demise is just around the corner again and summer has just about shot its bolt. For the area's 8500 school children, the annual three-month holiday is over, as they resume the Three Rs Tuesday in public high and grammar schools and the parochial schools.

Some of the parents rejoice, for it means their fledglings are out from under foot and are inherited on a temporary daily basis by the school marm. Others abhor the end of summer and the annual outfitting of their youngsters for the opening day fashion parade at the school grounds.

In the Jefferson Elementary School district, hundreds of moms and pops will have a sigh of relief as their youngsters go on full-day sessions, perhaps for the first time.

But as one double session era ends temporarily, another will start—this time in the Jefferson High school district, where "West-moor" students will attend the Jefferson campus in the morning, "Jefferson" students in the afternoon.

School bells never jingle for the opening day any more in the normalcy of the traditional little Red School house.

In many cases elementary school students don't see the same school house from one year to the next and don't attend at the same hours. High school students will have to adjust themselves to a new way of school life, the half-day session.

Those halcyon days of education are only history now.

Summer always ends the same time, Labor Day weekend is status quo, Daylight Savings doesn't change much, but the opening of school means something new each year to the modern-day pupil.

Education has been described as the sum-total of learning experiences. If so, the Jefferson students are acquiring new experiences each year. Whether the sum total is education can be determined later.

Methods and housing may change, but school usually starts on time. And next Tuesday's the starting date.

And that's inevitable, as far as 8500 local youngsters are concerned.

EAGLES CORNER

By Dell Fehl

The police and fire departments of Daly City, Colma and Broadmoor Village will be honored by Colma Vista Grande Aerie No. 1848, F.O.E., on Thursday evening, September 20.

Program Director Harry Maguire has promised that this affair will surpass many of our annual events including Old Timers Night. For example, the big free ham dinner for all the members and their candidates will be served promptly at 7 p.m. This dinner naturally will be with all the trimmings including beer and wine.

A short meeting will follow with most of the business omitted because of the time element.

Then will be held a class initiation, and we hope a large group will be given the obligation of our organization. This is where we can all fulfill our promise to the order by bringing in at least one candidate.

Guest speaker for this gala occasion will be Mayor Joseph J. Verducci. Three past presidents of the order, Mel Battye, Arthur Bodien and Bill Bolger, will make introductions and presentations.

Awards will be given to outstanding police and firemen for services rendered our fair city. Also on the agenda will be presentation of awards to members of the Aerie for their past achievements.

Tom Gosland, past president of Aerie No. 5, past state president, and grand worthy outside guard, will be guest of honor.

A membership drive of an entirely different nature is in progress, which certainly should prove productive along with loads of fun for everyone. For a hint attend the meeting, urge the return of other members, bring in your share of candidates and see your friends hung by the neck.

SAFETY NEWS

Happy New Year, This greeting isn't so out of place as you might think. This is the beginning of a new year—the 9-month year when our nation's schools are in regular session.

Did you ever stop to consider how much of our life is geared to this schedule? Many clubs refer to this as the start of the club or program year, whether or not they have school connections.

The opening of school doors affects virtually everyone. If you have youngsters in your home, there is an immediate change in the very pattern of your days. And when you get behind the wheel of your car, you are sure to notice some differences. School areas are being guarded by the police, extra traffic signs and signals, and by the children themselves. In the hours just before and after school there are increased numbers of bicycle riders and large groups of child pedestrians on routes to and from school.

This fall change over in the traffic situation focuses attention on one of our major traffic problems: CHILD TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS.

In 1956, there were 2,350 youngsters, age 5-14, killed and 140,000 injured in motor vehicle accidents. These are just statistics, unless you are responsible for one. Could you convince yourself it was really unavoidable?

A sense of responsibility and dependability grows as we mature. Being adults we must recognize that the 5 or 10 year old simply can't be expected to be completely reliable in his safety habits. Our added alertness must compensate for children's mistakes. Give them a chance to learn.

You motorists be alert for children at all times, especially around school zones, playgrounds and other places where children congregate. Know and obey the special warnings given in school areas by signs and signals, traffic police, and school patrols. Watch for human warning signs in action, the children themselves.

Don't be juvenile and try to compete with bike riders. Give them a brake.

You parents should set a good example for your children by your own alertness and precautions in traffic. Urge them to eat spinach so they will be big and strong like dad. Are you sure you want them to copy your daily safety habits as well?

Teach youngsters to obey all

JACK CAMACHO, recent enlistee in the Marine Corps Reserve, six-month active duty program, is fingerprinted by Sgt. Spencer C. Strickland of 118 East Moltke street, as Sgt. David A. Hansen is not only a sergeant in the Marine Corps Reserve but a sergeant in the Daly City police force as well.

Village Notes By Gwin Mitchell

PL 5-0679

Last week we told you about Ellis street's Pat Stockslager working as a CBS nurse during the R Convention, but we didn't get to tell you about the Stockslager vacation. Herewith: Pat, Bill and son Bryce went to Reno (at the time the flash flood) then on to Pat's family in Lewiston, Idaho. Part of the time was spent at Lake Ponderella, where an old silver mining town was brought back to life by leasing the old homes for 5 year periods at the price of the repairs necessary to keep them up. It's a good fishing spot: an 18 lb. Dolly Varden trout was caught there, measuring 33 in. long and 6 in. between the eyes. Bryce had fun riding horses and doing all the things on 8-year-old does in the country, and the whole family enjoyed everything, including a trip through the middle of Oregon en route home.

Ray and Bernice Johnson and family of Maddux went south for their vacation, LA area. They did not go to You-Know-Where, though! Ray had to attend a state labor convention for a while, and the others enjoyed the pool at the place where they stayed. They did go to Knotts Berry Farm, though, and had a day or so in Yosemite on the way home. Once home, they entertained friends from Phoenix, Arizona—Earl and Helen Gieskel, both school teachers, who had a very busy visit, sightseeing, et al. And somewhere in all this hustle and bustle, Ray had a birthday. Many late happy returns!

Mona and Jack Baker, entertaining friends Don and Marie Geil from Portland, Oregon, gave a party at their home on Beechwood in their honor. Friends from the east bay, Marin and the peninsula were there, as well as ex-Villagers Ann and Tom Jenkins (who are now in San Carlos), and Grace and Elman Rose (now in Crestmoor). A very nice evening, we hear. The Bakers were guests at a party, too—the one given for the NBC crew here for the Convention. Beautiful food and decorations. Mona said, in a beautiful place—the Hall of the Dons in the Mark. Another party in-honor-of took place on Stoneyford when Nona and Russ Hansen celebrated Russ' retirement after 30 years as a CWO in the Army. Some 45 people attended, among them neighbors and friends Winifred Senn, the John Najarians, the Brian Whiteheads, the Robert Trevers, the Ed Morris, the Ben Winkoffs, the Fred Bullises, the Ralph Divers and the Robert Wardells. After leaving the IG office of the 6th Army in the Presidio, parade and all, Russ turned around and replaced himself in his same job as a civil service employee!

Cross-Country Trip

Myra, Vince and Rick Centanni are back home on Maddux after a fabulous 5½ week vacation which covered the US pretty well. First they drove straight to Buffalo, New York, then to Stratford, Canada, then to Michigan (they crossed the Lakes on the Wisconsin Clipper boat), then to Minneapolis, where they visited Myra's mother and brother. While there, they spent a week at Lake Minnewaska, and then went on to the South Dakota Badlands and Rushmore Park. The Mt. Rushmore memorial was very impressive and beautiful. Myra told us, and so was Yellowstone, where they went next, making the acquaintance of the geysers and the Yellowstone grand canyon. Then on to Oregon and a tour of the Oregon caves, and down the Redwood Highway with, with an overnight stay at Hartzook's. Quite a vacation!

Some of the Original Families of 90th street had a reunion at Mt. View not so long ago. Douglas and Jean Vaughan (and 5 children) entertained Kay, Ray and Judy Logan (still in BV). Mike and Barbara Kudlik (and 5 children) of San Rafael, and Dick and Lois Keefe (and 3 children) of Portland, Oregon. The get-together was in honor of the Keefes, who were visiting the Vaughans, with a supper buffet which everyone enjoyed. (Total children attending—14!)

Rheumatic Fever
Sorry to report that little Jerelyn Magnusson has had a bout with rheumatic fever, but she is back home on Bradley after a brief hospital visit, and is well on the mend. There are still days of being quiet-at-home ahead, however; a new television set is helping out nicely. Meanwhile brother Butch celebrated his 5th birthday by having some 30 of the neighborhood gang around for ice cream cones and cupcakes.

Pallas Athene
Speaking of the Army, something new has been added, an organization for ex-WACS and WAACS. It's called Pallas Athene, and one group is already flourishing in Palo Alto. Mrs. Gerald (Lucille) Tauscher of San Mateo is busy starting another group farther up the peninsula, and will be glad to welcome all ex-WACS in this area. There traffic rules at all times. The habits can be formed before children are old enough to understand the reasons behind them, and it is important that the rules be definite and unvarying. You owe it to your child to send him into traffic equipped with a sound knowledge of behavior that will keep him safe.

Memo in miniature: Harold and

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewes

Before the curtains parted on their opening presentation of "Tea and Sympathy," Abbott-Abrams had already hung out the SRO sign. Subsequent performances have been playing to near-capacity houses, all of which would indicate that Robert Anderson's controversial drama will enjoy a long run at 1725 Washington street.

It tells of a teen-aged youth at a boys' school (Will Marchetti) who prefers to play his guitar and listen to classical music rather than bay with his fellows in pursuit of a local waitress. By thus committing the unforgivable sin—failure to fit into the popular mold—he is readily suspected of being friendly with a master who has left the school under questionable circumstances.

Daly City Actress

His housemaster (Edward O'Brien) is completely out of sympathy with the boy. Marchetti's roommate (Ken Letner) performs well, but does what he can but has to abandon him. Even the boy's father (Wendell Gray) fails to take a strong stand, leaving only the housemaster's wife (Marjorie Werby, who is incidentally a Daly City resident) to champion the boy.

Influenced by her faith in his integrity and driven by her own tottering marriage, she is impelled to go beyond the duties of a housemaster's wife which, as described in the play, are those of a bystander, limited to giving tea and a little sympathy to help the boys over the difficulties of being young and vulnerable.

Marchetti is indecisive, troubled, defiant, comical—a sensitive portrayal of a late-adolescent who lacks the experience to face and refute an unjust accusation.

Brief But Blithe

O'Brien handles his role with a sure touch. On the surface he appears to be a hearty, uncomplicated soul, inclined to protest and bluster when faced with anyone the least bit different from the standard product. Not until the end of the play does one realize that he is protesting too much and his bluster is a poor cover-up for his own insecurity.

Wendell Gray is fine as the boy's father, as is Ken Letner, torn between loyalty to his roommate and worry about his own future status. And there is Carol Bennett's brief bit as a faculty wife, blithely unaware of these dark undercurrents.

Marjorie Werby gives a beautifully restrained performance. She has an air of well-bred distinction and even in the closing scenes where one less talented might have been tempted to create a tempest in a teapot, Marjorie underplays it most effectively.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS TO DISCUSS NOVEMBER BALLOT

Discussion of November's state ballot issues will be held in a series of neighborhood meetings next week by the League of Women Voters of San Francisco. The following local meetings will be held:

Monday, September 10, at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. H. H. Frem, 15 Rivas street, Park Merced.

Wednesday, September 12, at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. S. S.ilverstein, 157 Wilshire avenue, Westlake.

Friday, September 14, at 12:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Frank E. Kendrick, 9 Gonzalez drive, Park Merced.

Paul for the whole month of August, where they visited Irene's mother, Mrs. Regina La Porte, and three sisters and their families. Bill didn't get all that vacation time, though; his company sent him to Rutgers in Newark, N. J., for a brush-up summer business course. Meanwhile, Irene and Lee enjoyed wonderful weather and weekends on Lake Carmel. It was there that Irene met the friends she spoke of, the Les Voells. All in all, it was a splendid month, including the plane trip there and back.

Irene also came up with what we think is a terrific idea: a sort of "ten years ago in Broadmoor" idea, with items culled from the first paper put out way back then by Jim and Jessie Buckwalter who lived on Heather Road. The paper was the Broadmoor Bulletin, and we're rushing the ten years by some months, as Irene's earliest copy dates from March 47. Problems be-setting early Villagers involved bumps in the road (a la Sullivan south right now), need of laws (this seems to be all right these days) the organization of the BPOA, with Hal Lipset at the helm (Lipset is now in SF and Bob Buchanan is now the president), people driving too fast through town and children running out into the street without looking (this problem is, unfortunately, still with this area and with most others, so we could all check ourselves on this).

Small World

We have always contended that it is, in truth, a small world. Proof of this was in the fact that, while in St. Paul on vacation, Irene Chessman met friends she had met in Tacoma who also knew Louvaine Drive's Bea Gantert! Irene, Bill and son Lee went back to St.

Something For Everyone

By The Staff of the Daly City Public Library

The crisis over the Suez situation has brought renewed interest, not only in the subject of United States foreign relations in general, but also in the study of the African question in all its phases.

Perhaps one of the best ways to start reading on Africa is to begin with Stuart Cloete's AFRICAN GIANT, an account of a journey by the well-known South African novelist and his wife through parts of the Dark Continent relatively unfamiliar to them. Cloete's insight into the African historical and political situation offers food for thought to all the Western world.

The same journey, or rather a part of it, is related in his wife's recent book, NYLON SAFARI. In this delightful volume Rehma Cloete tells of her unwilling trip with her husband—hers was the familiar story of having her husband present her with an anniversary gift which pleased him! In this case, the gift was a safari, about which Mrs. Cloete could work up little enthusiasm.

Quite a different type of safari, with much different reactions, is recounted in the classic work, SAFARI, by Martin Johnson.

Readers particularly interested in the Egyptian crisis will want to refer to Edmund Stevens' recent NORTH AFRICAN POWDER KEG. A new history of Egypt, PHAROAH TO FAROUK, by H. Wood Jarvis, will provide excellent background material for a better understanding of the Egyptian situation.

Egypt's neighbor, Morocco, is covered in a light volume, THE PRINCE AND I, by Marjorie Howe.

Laurens van der Post, the popular South African novelist, has written an immensely provocative study of the color situation in Africa (including other regions besides South Africa) in THE DARK EYE IN AFRICA. Another viewpoint is presented by Father Trevor Huddleston, an Anglican missionary, in NAUGHT FOR YOUR COMFORT, which is restricted to the color crisis in South Africa.

Among many other fine works on the African continent, readers will enjoy ZAMBESI, by J. F. Macdonald, which is a travel book on the area of the Zambesi River in the Rhodesias. Those especially interested in the great medical missionary work of Dr. Albert Schweitzer will want to consult the new revised edition of George Seaver's ALBERT SCHWEITZER: THE MAN AND HIS MIND.

Two recent books not directly concerned with the African problem, but having an important bearing on world affairs and interracial problems in general, are Emanuel R. Posnack's WORLD WITHOUT BARRIERS, a thoughtful study of coexistence, and Richard Wright's COLOR CURTAIN, a report on the Bandung Conference by the great American negro writer.

For these and other works on Africa, world affairs, racial problems, or whatever you may be most interested in, consult the Daly City Public Library, 6351 Mission street, or the Westlake Branch Library, 34 Park Plaza drive. Remember, your public library has something for everyone!

The FRED GRABKES are back home after a wonderful ten week stay in Germany visiting with relatives and friends there.

For the KARSTAN HJELLES a wonderful time was had when they spent a week in Southern California, with the children having a delightful time at Disneyland, Knott's Berry Farm, Mexico, and Lake County.

FERN LAWRENCE with her two daughters COLEEN and SUSIE had themselves a nice time visiting with friends in Napa, their last fling before the girls went back to school.

SPECIAL TV PREVIEW

Just completed in Hollywood the evening before and flown to San Francisco, the opening episode of a new NBC dramatic series "On Trial," based on authentic dramatizations of famous court trials, was previewed by bay area television columnists at a special showing last week at KRON. The San Francisco gathering was the first group in the country to see the finished film including even the producers.

"On Trial" which will debut over KRON-TV on Friday, September 14 at 9 p.m., will present true documentary stories, both historical and modern, researched from legal files through the world, and will feature famous film and stage performers in leading roles.

The first program starred host-narrator Joseph Cotten portraying an eminent European doctor whose trial received worldwide notoriety during the 19th Century. The program contained just the right amount of suspense and held our interest until the end. The costumes and stage settings gave a vivid and true picture of life at that time. The camera techniques were particularly good especially the close-ups of the characters. Some of the watching group termed the program a legal "Medic." We feel that the program does have as much drama as the "Medic" series because certainly there is plenty of human interest and excitement in court trials. The producers of the program should find an endless supply of story material to dramatize as they delve back into history.

BOY'S CORNER... Calling all Boy Scouts! Last week KQED began a new series (Tuesdays, 6 p.m.) featuring the merit badge program of the Boy Scouts of America. Entitled "Merit Badge" the program will explore and demonstrate over one hundred different subjects ranging from dog care, cooking and camping to astronomy, architecture, mechanical drawing, printing and radio. Each week a group of scouts and merit badge counselors will guest on the telecast showing the requirements needed for badges. The program should prove to be of great help to scouts who are earning their badges as well as serve as a source of materials for scout leaders. Also the program should prove to be an inspiration to younger boys who will soon be entering the scouting program. Another "live" program to KQED's rapidly expanding schedule and good television for youngsters!

KPIX STUDY GUIDE

Last spring KPIX issued the first volume of a booklet prepared for KPIX by the Citizenship Associates of Teachers College, Columbia University for use in connection with television coverage of the forthcoming Presidential election. A second volume will be issued this month relating to events from the close of the two convention through the November elections. Judging by the first volume, we feel this guide should prove to be of great assistance in guiding students during this important time in our history. We like to see station lying in television with education, and KPIX is to be congratulated for making these useful study guides available.

Francis Says Teen Subsidy 'Workable'

Assemblyman Louis Francis announced today that proposed legislation for state appropriation of $500,000 over a two-year period to subsidize teen-age students in public part-time employment was regarded as workable.

This conclusion was reached after a two-day conference before the assembly interim committee on finance and insurance, of which Francis is a member, held at the State building in Los Angeles this week. This proposed legislation provides a program for the state to foster, aid and assist the youth of the state in seeking gainful employment to the fullest extent of their capabilities in order that their time away from home and school will be employed in productive enterprises, through which they will receive wages and actual work experience. This productive activity would also serve as a deterrent to juvenile delinquency caused by inactivity and lack of money on the part of teen-agers.

During the conference, numerous local, state and federal agency representatives testified that they were in favor of the legislation. A few said they were in favor of establishing a statewide program for employment opportunities for teen-agers, but criticized many features of the proposed legislation. Francis reported that the replies to questionnaires, which were sent to 90 communities throughout the state to determine an interest for a combined program of supervised work and recreation for teen-agers during summer vacations, were generally favorable to this proposed legislation.

COASTSIDERS CONTINUE TO IGNORE DALY CITY IN GARAGE DUMP PLANS

"Common ground" between the Coastside Scavenger company and dump owner Anthony Pitta has been established by the Linda Mar committee opposed to the Bernardi ranch dump site. Co-chairman Lionel Spencer said today.

Spencer refused to disclose details of the "common ground," but said that his group hopes to bring the two parties together later this week.

"We want to play square with everyone concerned," the co-chairman declared.

In announcing that his group will attempt arbitration between scavenger partners Mario Torrigino and George Giordano and Pitta, Spencer reiterated that Daly City will not be contacted.

"Don't Want DC Garbage"

We still don't want Daly City garbage on the North Coastside," the spokesman said.

Both the Coastside and Daly City Scavenger companies have submitted applications to the county planning commission for permission to establish a fill and cover operation on the Bernardi ranch property located southeast of Linda Mar.

The matter is scheduled for planners' consideration on September 19.

Daly City Man Wounded By Cop

A Daly City man was still in critical condition today after he was shot by a state police officer in San Francisco Sunday night while allegedly pilfering building materials from a condemned house.

Hospitalized following surgery for removal of a .38 caliber bullet was Jorge Y. Luna, 32 San Pedro avenue.

The suspect was shot by Forest M. Seter, 28, who was guarding a row of buildings recently abandoned to make way for the Western freeway.

Seter said he heard "ripping and hammering noises in one of the houses and upon investigation found Luna leaping out of a corner. Luna then headed out of a first floor window and was wounded after refusing to heed the officer's shout to halt.

The bullet hit Luna in the left leg and entered the pelvic region.

San Francisco Girl Ends Life Over Daly City Man

A 17-year-old San Francisco girl leaped to her death Wednesday to climax a love triangle involving a 24-year-old Daly City father who committed suicide the day before by jumping off Golden Gate Bridge.

Patricia A. McCarthy plunged nine floors from a San Francisco hotel window in apparent remorse for her lost boy friend. Police found clippings in her purse on the death of Charles Waters, 16 Flounroy street, and a suicide note to the girl's mother.

Mrs. La Donna Folmar, mother of the girl, said her daughter had been going with Waters, a truck driver, the past two years. Waters lived with his wife, Marie, and a 3-month-old son at the Flounroy address.

Mrs. Waters told police she and her husband had separated some time ago but had been reconciled. His car was found parked near the south tower of Golden Gate Bridge early Tuesday with the lights on and motor running.

According to Mrs. Folmar, Waters had told her he was very much in love with Pat but didn't want to leave his wife and son. The dead girl's mother said Waters wanted his wife to leave him.

BROADMOOR ASSOCIATION TO NAME THREE NEW DIRECTORS AT MEETING

Three vacancies on the Broadmoor Property Owners association board of directors may be filled Thursday, September 13, at that group's regular meeting.

President Bob Buchanan said appointments to fill the trio of vacancies will be made if sufficient qualified persons submit applications within the next few days. A special meeting to study possible replacements will be held sometime during the coming week in advance of the regular meeting.

Buchanan invited Broadmoor property owners interested in serving as directors to contact him immediately.

The vacancies were created by resignations of directors James McKay, secretary, Thomas Jenkins and Parker Garner. McKay, candidate for congress, left his Spencer's group, besides working to prevent Daly City from dumping anywhere on the coastside, hopes to prevent the coastside firm from using the Bernardi ranch property. Although possibility of reconciliation between the coastside scavengers and Pitta was earlier ruled out by the two partners, the Linda Mar committee is persisting in plans for arbitration.

Outbid Pitta
Giordano and Torrigino, after a lengthy court battle with former partner Pitta, bought the Coastside Scavenger company last month at public auction held under court order.

Pitta's permit to operate his dump runs out in about seven months. His former partners are now dumping on his site at a rent determined by the court.

Meanwhile, Spencer declared that more than 1800 signatures have been gained on petitions opposing the Bernardi site. These will be presented at the September 19 planning commission meeting.

In other action on the controversial dump situation, Daly City councilmen were scheduled to meet with the county board of supervisors this Thursday night to discuss the problem.

GO-AHEAD NEARS ON LAKE MERCED DRAIN CLEAN-UP

Daly City has obtained easement from City of San Francisco which will make possible the clearing of the Lake Merced drainage canal by army engineers, City Engineer Cyril Weiler said today.

The six-foot deep canal, which carries Daly City water along the south shore of Lake Merced to the ocean outfall, has been clogged with up to five feet of silt, seriously impairing the city's drainage system.

Army engineers will let contract for the job, estimated to cost $10,000, with funds appropriated by Congress last year for flood relief.

Weiler said the Army will probably advertise for bids within two weeks.

Street Paving Halted As Asphalt Supply Cut

Daly City's street re-paving program came to a temporary halt this week when the city's supplier of asphalt, Pacific Coast Aggregates, could not furnish enough of the material because of a major airport paving job.

City Engineer Cyril Weiler said work would resume on Bellevue avenue next week, and possibly Templeton. Two-thirds of Bellevue has already been completed.

The public works department continued work this week on the Frankfort Park retaining wall.

Although several truckloads of stolen articles were recovered in Del Pape's basement at the time of his arrest on May 24, the court also ordered that he make restitution.

Del Pape, 51, 21 Parkview avenue, was charged with grand theft after his employer signed a complaint stating the Daly City man had stolen something every day during his 29 years of employment.

Don't Dump Grass In Gutters—Weiler

City Engineer Cyril Weiler today urged Daly City residents to refrain from dumping litter and lawn trimmings in the gutters.

The engineer pointed out that the grass was not only unsightly, but clogged up the catch basins. He said the annual catch basin clean-up campaign was scheduled soon, and that excess litter in the drains would hinder the project. Dumping in gutters has been on the increase in past weeks, he said.

Hollander Finds Difficulty In Search For Job

Because of the language difficulty, Arend Borgman has not yet found a job. Mrs. James C. Nourse, his sponsor, told THE RECORD today.

Borgman with his wife and five children recently arrived in the United States from Holland. They now are living in San Francisco.

The Dutchman, who was employed as a barber and tobaccoist in his native country, can not work at the barbering trade here until he passes a state examination. Idea of employment at one of the several bay area federal posts has been investigated without success.

Although Borgman certainly is not proficient in the English language, he has a rudimentary knowledge and is quick to pick up new words. He will begin language classes this week.

Persons wishing to aid in finding employment for Borgman may contact Mrs. Nourse at PLaza 6-0958.

Colma Man's Brother 'Mysterious' Suicide

M. Jay Jensen, manager of Olivet Memorial Park in Colma, went to Willis this week for the funeral of his brother, Robert, who died last Thursday of a self-inflicted bullet wound.

Mendocino county authorities are investigating the death since Jensen's brother committed the act after receiving a mysterious phone call. The deceased recently broke a 22-year-old ban against the sea shipment of logs from the Mendocino county coast because of a dock strike in effect at the time.

Accompanying Jensen for his brother's funeral was his sister, Mrs. Josephine Gohl, 1424 Bernal avenue, Burlingame.

Bus Line Submits Fare Hike Requests

Peninsula Bus Lines presented two fare hike proposals to the Public Utilities Commission in South San Francisco Wednesday.

One request submitted by John Sapienza, PBL accountant for owner A. E. Ryan, asks a 5 to 10 cent increase in fares and the abandonment and rerouting of some of its lines.

The alternate proposal would keep local rates the same but would increase rates five cents between cities to a maximum of 25 cents.

Lone effect on Daly City under either proposal would be a raise from 15 cents to 20 cents for the Daly City to Holy Cross cemetery trip. The Daly City to South San Francisco rate of 25 cents would remain the same.

Sapienza said the fare hikes are necessary "if the bus line is to hold down losses and continue to provide service."

He added that passenger revenue has decreased to the point where it is unprofitable to continue certain runs, but in order to keep up runs required by the cities, the line has operated at a loss.

Sapienza also said that the bus company had requested South San Francisco to either subsidize the line or take it over, but no decision was made.

The bus company serves Daly City, South San Francisco, San Bruno, Colma, Brisbane, Bayshore and other county areas.

Jail Machinist For Westlake Tool Theft

A San Francisco machinist was arrested by Daly City police Wednesday for stealing tools from a Henry Doelger Inc. shed in Westlake.

Admitting he raided the Westlake shed and also another at Army and Church streets in San Francisco was William Gibson, 34, 2425 Mission street.

Police recovered an electric saw which was among the stolen items.

Little Cagers Start Tuesday At Hi Schools

Jefferson and Westmoor high schools' pint-sized basketball players will start the battle for suits Tuesday when practice opens for the 1956 10s and 20s aggregations.

Westmoor, under tutelage of Byron Van Alstyne, will have use of the courts in the morning, while Jeff coach Michael Orlich will send his small hoopsters through the paces in the p.m.

Both coaches expect turnout of 30 players for each team, but the four clubs will be whittled down to 15 before a week is out.

Because half of the "Jefferson" students will be attending school in the mornings, half in the afternoon, all games will be on the road. A night game is probably in the offing when Westmoor lightweights collide with Jefferson, since half of the competitors will be in school throughout the day.

Orlich says he will be starting fresh, without a single veteran returning to the line-up. "Westmoor got the only good players from last year," the mention was made.

The bus company serves Daly City, South San Francisco, San Bruno, Colma, Brisbane, Bayshore and other county areas.

Westlake Park Chess, Table Tennis Victors

Three winners were crowned in the city-wide chess tournament last week at Westlake Park as Peter Pollatt, George Ambrosio and Ron Nagy outlasted opponents in three age divisions.

Pollatt was supreme in the 11 and under bracket, Ambrosio nabbed the 12 and 13 event, and Nagy ruled the 14 and over competition.

Pollatt and Ambrosio also grabbed table tennis championships in their respective brackets the same day. Ron Kalinin emerged as city champ in the 14 and over competition by whipping Len DeMartini 7-21, 21-10 and 21-16. John McKenna was third.

Westlake School Nips Park Softballers, 16-15

Westlake School broke a 14-14 tie in the ninth inning last week to eke out a 16-15 victory over Westlake Park's softball team in a tightly contested battle.

Schreier's sharp single drove in the winning runs after the Park squad went ahead 14-14 with two out and two on.

Schreier and Bassini each collected four hits, while Turner and Rice banged out three hits apiece for the winners. A. J. Miley, Mike and Marty Seelig and Chris Trapani hit safely twice for the Park team.

No Quota On Marine Six-Month Program

The Marine Corps announced today that it has removed all quota restrictions for accepting enlistments in the six month training program during the month of September.

Major Burt B. Sorensen, commanding officer of the Marine Reserve, 7th Infantry Battalion, USMCR, San Bruno, stated that the six month training program provides an excellent opportunity for the young men in the 17-18½ year age group to follow their elected careers with least disruption and still fulfill their military obligation. Those eligible young men enlisting now are not required to serve their six months active duty until their graduation from high school.

Information about the program may be obtained by visiting the 7th Infantry Battalion, at the Marine Corps Reserve Training Center located at the Tanforan Race Track, off El Camino Real in San Bruno. Offices are open daily Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., and on Saturdays from 8 a.m. until 12 noon; evenings on Tuesday and Thursday from 7 until 10 p.m.

New Pisa Juniors Outlast Podesta, St. Cecelia Nines

Crivello's two bagger drove in Gil for the initial New Pisa tally in the bottom of the first. St. Cecelia evened the count in the second following an error and a hit by Sonny Stoller.

Krohn's double scoring two runs broke the tie in the fifth stanza. St. Cecelia added its final run in the sixth after Wiese walked and Moriarity and Frank thrown out at home on a relay from George Claus to Bill Hynes.

The Creighton nine picked up two more clinching runs in the sixth as Billy Ludwigsen drove one past the centerfielder to bring across Christman and McHugh. Hynes opened the inning by getting on via a walk. He moved to second on Duke Jones' sacrifice. Christman then ran for Hynes. McHugh walked and Cozad was safe.

New Pisa's Juniors continued their winning ways last Saturday by sweeping a twin bill over Podesta Nursery, 8-4, and St. Cecelia Juniors, 5-2, at Marchbanks Park.

The New Pisians had to come from behind in the opener, pushing across four big runs in the fifth inning and three more in the seventh.

Podesta got two runs in the first and another in the second to take a 3-0 lead. Barry Krohn's single drove in Mike Royal for the first New Pisa run.

The final Podesta tally came in the fourth when Souza singled with the bases loaded. Holmes started the rally by singling. Serichia walked and Podesta sacrificed to fill the sacks.

New Pisa's big fifth frame featured hits by Gary Gil, Dan Crivello, Krohn and McHugh.

Terry Cozad limited the church boys to four hits in the second and managed to survive despite four errors by his mates.

Newcomers Gil and Crivello shouldered batting honors in the double victories. Gil got three for six, while Crivello collected two for five.

The New Pisa nine will represent Daly City in San Francisco's Mid-Winter Recreation League which begins this Saturday. Several of the games will be played at Marchbanks.
